Roaring Twenties Weekend Presents Ray McKinley&Glenn Miller Orch.

"String of Pearls," "Take the 'A' Train," "Little Brown Jug," and many of the original Glenn Miller favorites are the songs you know, have heard, and will hear once again this Junior Weekend, by the World Famous Glenn Miller Orchestra under the direction of Ray McKinley.

Mr. McKinley, star of R.C.A. Victor Records, has thrilled audiences from coast to coast and abroad with his fine music and wonderful arrangements.

After the death of Glenn Miller, many wondered what would become of this world famous band and all the glamor and appeal attached to such a group. Ray McKinley answered this question when he took over the direction of the Band and by doing so, he succeeded in preserving the Glenn Miller arrangements. Ray was a close friend of Glenn Miller and is pictured as a rather colorful musician, energetic, and bustling with ideas. He is definitely a man of enormous talent.

Featuring Lenny Hambo on the saxophone and pert Lorie Peters as the vocalist, Mr. McKinley promises to provide music that will long be remembered. His list of broken attendance records is insurmountable, they can be traced all over the world. To top this list of honors is the fact that this same band you are listening to this evening was recently voted the top entertainment band in America.

Junior Weekend In Full Swing At SMC

This afternoon at 1 o'clock the Junior Weekend of 1959 got into full swing with the first activity at the Ethan Allen Rollerama on North Avenue, Burlington. Michaelmen and their dates skated until 4 --- some on their feet and others --- well, they just couldn't skate. At 5:15 the weekenders gathered at the reception in the College Dining Hall for a Buffet and the signing in as official flappers and dappers of the "Roaring Twenties" weekend.

DARTMOUTH SULTANS

Tonight everyone is dancing to the music of the Dartmouth Sultans in Austin Hall. The Sultans are a nationally recognized group distinguished for their modern, swing and dixieland in the college way. They have played at such colleges and universities such as Cornell, UVM, U of Mass, Middlebury and others. They have been in Bermuda and are planning a European tour this summer. Everyone is dancing to their music in their '20' costumes and seem to be having a ball.

ANNOUNCEMENT

At 10:15 her Royal Highness will be announced and will officially begin her reign over the three days of the weekend. A stage show at 10:30 will feature the Barbershop Four from Burlington who will give a performance of about ½ hour. The Charleston Contest will begin at 11:30 and trophies will be awarded to the best female and male dancers.

TEMPIE CONNORS

Saturday morning will find everyone on campus taking in the Michaelman way of living. A baseball game between the Plattsburgh State Teachers and SMC will begin at 11. That afternoon a Barbeque and picnic-party will take place at the Holy Cross Camp, Mallett's Bay. Tempie Connors and his Modern Jazz Quintet will provide the swing for this affair. In the event of rain the Saturday afternoon activities will be transferred to Austin Hall.

GOWNS AND TAILS

The big night has arrived, they are nearing the Pavilion and the ooh-wah sound hits them as they enter the Cotillion, the music is overwhelming and the dates are in beautiful gowns with the gentlemen in Tails. The lights are lowered, a spot hits the Royal Couple as they enter. They are crowned and the weekend is nearly at its end. Moonlight Serenade ends the big note.

Strictly Speaking

by P. Terrence O'Grady

Since the advent on the American Political Stage of the "modern Republican" sired by the Squire of Gettysburg and the growing dichotomy between the Humphry's and the Byrd's in the Democratic party, the terms Republican and Democratic have lost their value in designating basic principles of a different nature. Conveniently, however, we have another set of symbols to satisfy our inner desire to pigeon-hole notion rather than to grapple with each on an intellectual level as singular phenomenon. But even these, i.e. conservative and liberal, need some definition and delineated characteristics in order to be applied with some accuracy.

As a conservative it is my purpose here to outline the major essential principles as held by one of this philosophy. The following is though by no means all-inclusive nor particular, it can only serve as a guide.

Our first belief concerns the function of government in time of peace. It is an arbitrator, a disinterested judge between citizens and should act solely to protect the liberty and property of individuals. We are dedicated to an unrelentless fight against the growth of government as it represents an enroachment of personal freedom.

We believe that this battle must be further extended to the social, intellectual and religious arena. Socially, our war is against the engineers who would have men adjust to their scientific formulas for a material utopia. Intellectually we insist that progressive education is regrissive learning. We demand excellence and not conformity. We also must resist the attempts of the establishment to make their doctrines de riguer in the academy. Regiously we abhor the implications and application of moral relativism and stand firmly in our acceptance of the Western Christian tradition.

We see as America's greatest enemy the threat of communism and internal decay and contend that our greatest danger is the public apathy that breeds them. We stand with Pope Pius XII in rejecting co-existence as neither possible, desirable nor honorable and therefore reject "talks" and will accept no substitute for the defeat of communism internally as well as abroad.

Since it is the avowed purpose of certain Fabians to capture the control of both parties, we strongly advocacate the restoration of the two party system and view cliches as "bi-partisanship" at the prostitution of political principle.

In the field of economics we contend that the competitive price system and the law of supply and demand should govern a nation built by free enterprise. We therefore oppose state intervention and regulation, public power and all that smacks of "Big Brother" government (e.g. federal aid to public education). It is, as we see it, a violation of the "necessary and proper" clause of the constitution.

We oppose monopoly in unions, as well as business and the socialistic planning of the Walter Reuthers.

Finally, while believing in the absolute sovereignity of the 50 states we stand in disagreement with any schme that would sell it to the United Nations, internationalism or the one-worlders.

It is this set of general concepts to which we adhere. We grace out heritage to Jefferson and saw it best represented by Robert Taft during the Senate he led when to the horror of the liberals "all things became debatable again!"

Question: Who was the outstanding personality of the last decade?

Pete Taylor, Class of '59
Larchmont, New York

The outstanding personality in the last decade in my opinion is John Foster Dulles. As our Secretary of State he proved and strengthened our opposition against the communist threat by preventing nuclear warfare and communist expansionism.

Dulles' contributions to the anti-communist cause will never be surpassed even though his methods sometimes produced undesirable results.

Dan Sherlock, Class of '60
Lodi, New Jersey

Johnas Salk has aided the general advancement of society by breaking the polio barrier and enabling men to live a better life. It is through his efforts that great amounts of mental and physical pain are alleviated for the individual and the common good.

Robert Therrien, Class of '62
Manchester, New Hampshire

One person who certainly did a vast amount of work for our country as far as gaining world wide recognition was General Douglas MacArthur. He suffered many disappointments, but he still succeeded in whatever endeavor he attempted. To my estimation he was acted upon very unjustly by President Truman. He certainly can still be rated as one of the top men of his time.

As We See It...

As college students, do we ever really stop to think before many actions that we undertake? As has been brought to our attention by the Co-chairmen and committee for the May Day Devotions, college students are receiving much adverse publicity.

This is a problem that is universal. It does not just exist at St. Michael's. But as men attending a Catholic Institution we should take it upon ourselves to put to a stop this sort of publicity. To put a stop to this, we must strike the problem at its source. No matter how shaded some reporting and publicity is thought to be, we must not forget that there must be some truth to the facts brought to public attention. It must also be remembered that the reading public takes all that they read for granted.

Gentlemen, let's be honest with ourselves. There is a faction in the immediate area that does not appreciate Michaelmen. Every incident, no matter how small it may seem, is only another point in favor of this faction's thinking. Let us try to reduce the breach between town and gown by being Christian gentlemen at all times.

If we do not present ourselves to the public as well mannered, well brought up gentlemen, we can not expect the people of this area to support us in our undertakings.

The campus radio station and the MICHAELMAN must look to the merchants of this area for advertising to supplement their budgets.

If we antagonize these people who are helping us we will also suffer.

There are many times during the course of the year that we find ourselves asking for support of the people in the Burlington area. We must try to keep in mind that there are two sides to every story. We can not ask for assistance without returning to these people some repayment ---- "do unto others as you would have them do unto you" ----

Some may feel that they do not fall unto this category of poorly mannered students. However, it should be kept in mind that when any person is wearing a Michaelman jacket or other identifying clothing, he is considered a Michaelman not as an individual.

With this in mind, we should act accordingly. The impressions we make are taken by the public as a universal impression of Michaelmen. Let us not give people the opportunity to print or say adverse things against Michaelmen ---- that's YOU!

The Broken Fungo

by Vin Farrell

Well now that the parents have left, the tooties are about to descend upon us. As you all know this is the Junior's attempt to prove that weekends are not dead. From what I have been able to find out the weekend will run for six days and nights with a different band each night. They were going to have "Red Nichols and his five pennies" but due to the strict budget they couldn't quite make a nickel.

All kidding aside it will be a festive affair. The motif is the "Roaring Twenties" or "Hootch, Cootch and Silent Cal". It looks as though Vermont will finally find out what happened after the armistice.

As you perhaps know this is about the last "Dative Fungus" (I really don't know myself", F.D.R. Hickey" hasn't posted the Schedule) Well now to pick up the train of thought . . . . I have been asked all year to mention peoples names . . Since I couldn't find any student with the name of Aardvark enrolled at the present time, I had to start fairly well down the list. First there is Gerard T (They can both use the same face towels) Curran. Gerry has been after me all year to include his name in this "Encyclopaedia of Fertilizer" . . . . . Well some people eat gold fish . . . I am deeply flattered that you think my column worth . . P.S. Hen says stop up on the 13th. Charlie Gallaghger Wherever you are . . . Chester told me: "Gee Vin I just love that fella from Albany".

Well now to become rational again. I was going to end with a poem by Nick Kenney but the copy write man is "e.e. cummings" fan. I have yet to figure out which way the new dorm? will be. Some say that the excavation is a pyramid to house the R.O.T.C. band . . . . Better leave well enough alone . . . . Frank Lyons performed admirably on the glockenspiel . . . . My best to the aged scholars of Winooski . . "Any time you feel faint Phil, don't hesitate."

MISS EILEEN O'BRIEN CHOSEN QUEEN OF ROARING TWENTIES

Court - Janet Andrews

Queen Eileen O'Brien

Court - Marianne Dunn

Court - Lois Fadgen

Court - Ann Bruck

From a total of five prospective queens, St. Michael's students have picked Miss Eileen O'Brien to reign during the "Roaring Twenties" Junior Weekend of 1959.

Miss Eileen O'Brien, of Park Ridge, N.J., received the greatest number of votes and will be crowned Saturday at the Queen's Cotillon by Ray McKinley with the queen's court in waiting. After Saturday night's formal, Miss O'Brien will reign in her official capacity as queen of the weekend.

Miss O'Brien served as a member of the queen's court during the 1958 Military Ball and in High School she served as secretary and cheerleader. Her escort is Anthony Bowen, a junior from Parkridge, N.J.

QUEEN'S COURT

Miss Janet Andrews, Burlington, Vt., queen of the Sophomore Dance is being escorted by John Burke, a Jersey City Junior.

Miss Anne Bruck, a Trinity College Sophomore from Kingston, N.J., was a member of the Trinity College Weekend Court and also a member of the St. Michael's Winter Carnival Court this year. Her escort is Francis Steele of Worcester, Mass., a Sophomore.

Miss Lois Fadgen, a resident of Clinton, Mass., is a nurse at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton, Mass. She is being escorted by Frederick Scarlatelli, a Junior from Attleboro, Mass.

Miss Marianne Dunne, West Hartford, Conn., is secretary at the Statler-Hilton Hotel and was queen of the 1958 Winter Carnival at St. Michael's. William M. Kelley of West Hartford, Conn., a Junior is her escort.

Michaelmen who wished to enter their dates in the contest were asked by the committee to attend a weekend supper and dance held at the Lincoln Inn. At this event, the candidates were reduced to the final five by the committee who in turn submitted the finalist to the deciding vote by the students.

PLAYHOUSE TO RETURN TO ST. MIKE'S

Players Incorporated will return to St. Michael's Playhouse this summer with a "Drama Festival" program marking the 10th year of the internationally noted touring company.

St. Michael's president, Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, S.S.E. said that Players Incorporated, now touring with "Oedipus Rex" and "Twelfth Night", will have the usual six week season at the college from July 7 to Aug. 15. The Playhouse season is one of the features of the St. Michael's College summer session. Plays are given Tuesdays through Saturdays at 8:30.

TENTH YEAR

To help mark the 10th year that Players have toured successfully in this country and abroad, the list of plays will include some of their top hits. Both classics and contemporary drama will be represented.

In the selection of their season, Players will be guided not only by a review of their successful tours, but also by the votes of their many fans at St. Michael's.

Last year's poll at the Playhouse asked for a musical show and Players are planning to offer their first musical since they became the resident company at St. Michael's.

The founder of Players, Rev. Gilbert Hartke, O.P. of the Catholic University, has sent a number of hits to Broadway from his Washington workshop.

Fr. Hartke said Players hit on the "Drama Festival" idea to mark not only their 10 years, but also the 350th anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain which will bring many visitors to Vermont.

ST. ANNE SHRINE TO OPEN MAY 30

The famed shrine of St. Anne at Isle La Motte will open for the season Memorial Day, Saturday, May 30.

Site of the first white settlement in Vermont, St. Anne's is also the spot where in 1666 Mass was first celebrated and where in 1668 Confirmation was administered for the first time in what is now the State of Vermont.

DIRECTOR

Rev. Maurice U. Boucher, S.S.E., has been named director of the shrine for the fourth year. His appointment was made by Very Rev. Jeremiah T. Purtill, S.S.E., superior general of the Society of St. Edmund.

Fr. Boucher said that the shrine will be the scene of more than the usual activity this year because of the 350th anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain and the special celebrations planned in Vermont, New York State and in Canada.

DEVOTIONS

Each Sunday and holy day, Mass will be offered at the shrine at 8 and 11, with Mass at 9:30 in the village church of St. Joseph. Devotions which include Stations of the Cross, Benediction and veneration of the relic of St. Anne are scheduled each Sunday and holy day at 2.

Permission has been granted by Most Rev. Robert F. Joyce, bishop of Burlington for Mass at 4:00 p.m. on Memorial Day when the shrine opens.

High School Students Able To Earn College Credits

The bright Vermont boy who is willing to study a freshman college course in his senior year in high school will be able to earn up to six college credits at St. Michael's College even before he enters.

As an extension of its gifted student program, St. Michael's College will permit talented Vermont high school students to take freshman college courses and exams for college credit and advanced placement. The program will apply to able students who plan to enter St. Michael's from high schools that cooperate with the program.

The offer was made at a meeting of the Vermont Headmasters Association at St. Michael's. Making the offer for the college was St. Michael's Assistant Dean and Registrar Thomas A. Garrett.

"We are mutually concerned," Garrett said, "with the academic wasted time duplication of your best seniors and our best freshmen."

PROGRAM

The way the plan would work is this:- St. Michael's will make available to any Vermont high school the syllabi in Freshman English, Freshman Mathematics and Freshman Chemistry. These courses can be taught in the local high school. At the end of the year, the high school students will come to St. Michael's and sit in with the college freshmen at the final exams. If the high school student passes, and if he elects to enter St. Michael's the following September, he can earn six or more credits.

"There is," Garrett said, "a selfish motive in this. We feel that a college student who has six or more credits invested in St. Michael's will want to matriculate here. There is, however, a considerable advantage to the high school and the talented student."

ADVANTAGE

Another advantage is that the enthusiasm of the students involved should communicate to the high school population at large so that able students in the second and third years who are not performing to capacity will make a more serious effort to qualify for the special courses as they enter the senior year."

St. Michael's already, under its Gifted Student program, permits entering freshmen who score over 600 on the College Entrance Board Scholastic Aptitude Test, to request a syllabus in a freshman subject. If he passes the test during freshman week, with a mark of C or better, that course and grade are recorded and he is referred to a special adviser for placement in an advanced course.

LIMITED OFFER

Mr. Garrett said that the offer could apply only to St. Michael's, since it could not offer to transfer credits to another institution. He acknowledged that there might be some difficulty in organizing such a program.

"For the young man, however, who is interested in the highly integrated liberal arts program that St. Michael's offers, this can be a substantial investment in their future".

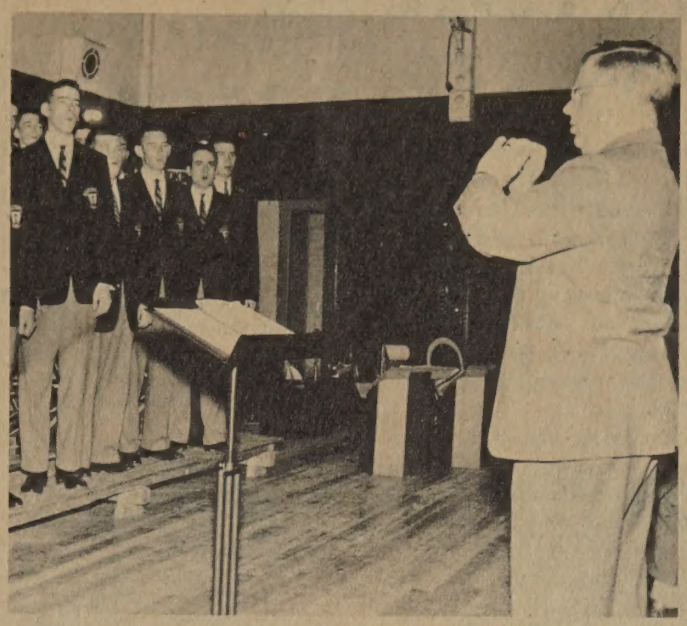
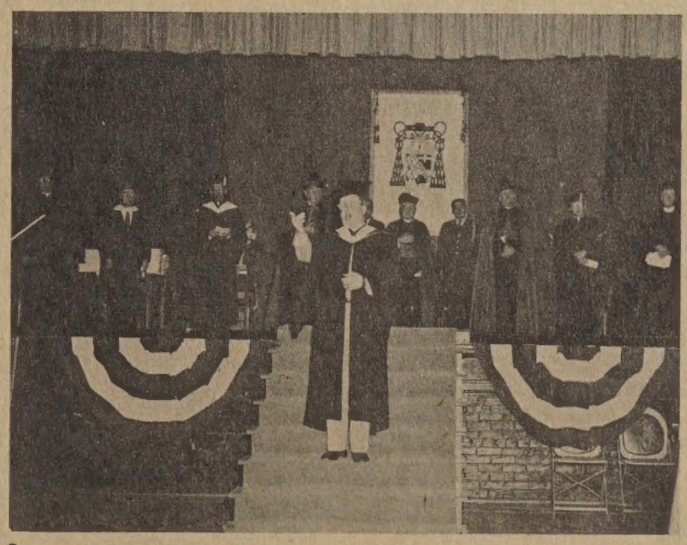
Michaelmen Honor Mr. "D", Public Relations Director

Mr. "D" is found in a familiar pose in his office. His many calls each day are made to bring St. Michael's to the public's eyes.



"Come on fellows give me one of those Christmas tree O's". The Glee Club is one of Mr. "D" favorite pastimes here on the Hilltop.

Mr. "Johnny on the Spot" with his camera, Mr. Donoghue is caught in an attempt to get one of those tough shots. He never did get this one!



Come graduation time this year, this familiar pose will again be witnessed by the graduating Class of '59. This is remembered by graduates for many years.

Mr. Donoghue is caught in this photo greeting Cardinal Spellman on his visit to Saint Michael's. This is another job that Mr. "D" does in his constant effort to fulfill his goal -- Doing anything for the betterment of St. Mike's.

by Roger Plasse

Tuesday May 12th will mark the 50th birthday of Mr. John Donoghue, Public Relations Director at St. Michael's, moderator of the MICHAELMAN, director of the Glee Club and Chapel Choir to name but a few of his functions at St. Michael's.

Mr. Donoghue, otherwise known to many students on campus as Mr. "D", was born in Springfield, Mass. His father, a former Police Captain in Springfield, and his mother were both from the greater Springfield area. Mr. "D" is a graduate of Cathedral High in Springfield, class of '27. He later attended St. Michael's College where he received his B.A. in Philosophy. Immediately following he attended the education workshop at American International College in Springfield. In 1948 he returned to St. Michael's to do graduate work. Mr. "D" went to the Radio and Electronic school at Fort Monmouth, N.J., for 6 months while he was in the Army Signal Corps.

Professional positions are nothing new for Mr. Donoghue. He has been Public Relations Director at St. Michael's since 1947 and is at present the New England director for the American College Public Relations Association. He was editor of the Army's "Stars and Stripes Forever" from 1944-46. He was a news reporter, editor and critic for the Springfield Daily News (Mass) from 1934-44, and acted as a radio announcer on station WAAS in Springfield from 1932-1934.

Mr. Donoghue's professional specialties are many. His favorite is newspaper work and editing in all fields both civilian and military. He has been a music and drama critic for Burlington and Springfield, Mass., newspapers, and has written on music and musicians widely, ranging from "Variety" to the "New York Times". Mr. "D" has also taught Journalism to both graduate and undergraduate students along with lectures on music for the Humanities course at St. Michael's.

At present he is active in many civic, political, cultural and humanitarian activities such as member of the board of directors for the "Vermont Catholic Tribune". Mr. Donoghue is also on the advisory board for the Fanny Allen School of Nursing and the Lane Series at the University of Vermont. He has given several hundred lecture-recitals on folk music. These are but a few of his activities in these fields.

Sitting in the hotel bar, I felt a quick pain as I realized everything was nothing. Also the waiter had put an elbow in my eye as he served the beer. It was teeming rain outside. Later perhaps, with luck, there would be a tidal wave. I began to sob happily.

"Stop crying in your beer," my father said, moving my Schaefer. "It's real beer." But was it? Was anything real, or unreal, or in any way touched with meaning? We had been coming to Atlantic City too many seasons. Just me, my father, Annette, Yvette, Babette. I was bored.

A proud, frail young man approached our table. My cheeks grew damper than ever. I was in love again. "I see you drink Schaefer, too," he said to me. "Do you know what you hear in the best of circles?"

I shook my head, sailing tears about the room. "Of course," my father interrupted. "Schaefer all around!" I wanted to kill him.

My young man's dark-circled eyes grew sad. "Here's to smooth, round Schaefer," he said. "Never sharp, never flat." My father raised his glass to return the toast, but I quickly pushed him over backwards in his chair. "To Schaefer, all liquid gold and capped with snow," I said, my voice alive with ennui. We clinked glasses, and he was gone.

And I was all alone again, surrounded by people. But the clink of the glasses of Schaefer, ah, that is my bittersweet treasure. So each evening, when the Schaefer comes, after the pain of memory, after the waiter's elbow, I say, "Good evening, happiness . . . Good evening, Schaefer." And then I cry.

Seniors Take Softball Title

DON DAKIN SPORTS DESK RYAN 220

In Mississippi recently a colored man was dragged from his cell to be persecuted by a mob. The participants in this injustice believe strongly that a colored man does not deserve the same justice as a white man. They feel the white is superior to the black.

Proposition: if given the opportunity, the Negro, Cuban, Puerto Rican or what have you, would equal if not surpass the Caucasan in any field and that this is exemplified, if not proven, by the accomplishment of the colored in the world of Sports.

In boxing, which is gradually becoming the best spectator sport of them all through television, it is evident that almost every weight division is championed by a dark skinned person. From Floyd Paterson down to Joe E. Brown the negro is generally the better boxer.

Baseball, our purported national pastime, is again undergoing this slow process of infiltration. If you will, consider a team comprising the talents of Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella, Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Ernie Banks, Vic Power, Larry Doby, Minnie Minoso, Phillipe Alau, and Elston Howard. It was a hard process in baseball but talents are apparently being placed ahead of bias, with only Boston holding out. Let them fall another notch in the standings and maybe Pumpsie Green will see some big league action.

Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell and Elgin Baylor along with the Big "O" lead the field in basketball. In the recent All-America selections three of the first team were negros.

When Jimmie Browne was selected as Athlete of the year the Negro race received possibly its greatest recognition in Sports, Browne ran all over the National Football League along with guys like Lanny Moore, Ollie Matson, and Roosy Grier. When Iowa swamped California in the Rose Bowl it was two colored boys who ran up fantastic yardage, Jeter and Fleming.

Tennis's greatest female delegate, Althea Gibson, is colored and was born in Harlem, famed slums of N.Y. City. It took a dark skinned Peruvian to win the Davis Cup for the United States - - - - -

The continued expression of examples would serve no further purpose. It is left now only to point out why it took so long and why such sports as golf and tennis are not being dominated by colored athletes. Let's face it, in order to participate in things like golf and tennis you need money. Money to go to college, money to belong to country clubs.

Since when did the negro or Puerto Rican on the whole get the coaching and training the white youngster obtains. The dark skinned person is a non-cultural and poor individual. He has to fight both prejudice and lack of opportunity in order to put his name in headlines.

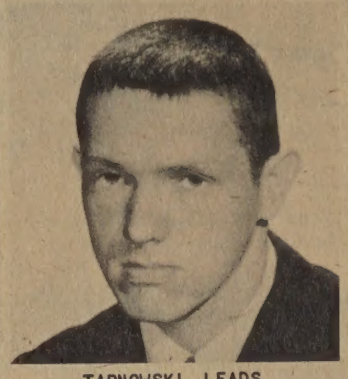
Boxing is the largest draw for the negro athlete along with basketball and baseball because no intelligence acquired through expensive education is required to throw punches. The chance exists for anyone. Here the white has no apparent advantage and he is being beaten badly.

Give the negro a chance, and quality with the white, and he will contribute his efforts to the community, for it is the duty of man to gain a position in society. Hold him back and we lose a possible statesman, executive, scientist or philosopher.

SOPHS. WIN INTERCLASS RIFLE COMP

The Interclass Rifle Meet held at St. Michael's Rifle Range April 27-30 under the direction of J.H. Lucas, M/Sgt. was taken by the Sophomores.

The Sophomores won the event with a score of 1490, the Freshmen were second with 1456 and the Juniors and Seniors followed with scores 1440 and 1231 respectively.



TARNOWSKI LEADS

High scorers for each team were Louis Tarnowski, Freshmen, 418, Brian Hunt, Sophs, 397, Don Hunger, Juniors, 374 and George Sinnott, Seniors, with 397. Tarnowski had the best mark in the competition as he led the Freshmen to second place honors.

The Sophomores received 15 points toward the Victorious Knights Trophy by winning the meet and the Freshmen also received 10 points.

The Seniors won the Interclass Softball league this week by capturing two consecutive games at the expense of the Sophomores. The first game went to the Seniors by 5-2, the second 6-5.

Before Monday nights action both clubs were tied for first place with identical (6-1) records. The Seniors had lost one game to the Juniors while the only Sophomore loss was to the Seniors, 4-3.

With Al Wier again on the mound, the Sophomores were confident in hoping they could win the league for a second time. It was the Freshmen of '58 who copped last years' title.

However, the hitting of Hank Gretkowski, and Tim Walsh and some sloppy defensive play on the part of the second year men allowed the Seniors to win Monday's game 5-2. It was Walsh's single with the bases loaded that broke a 2-2 tie.

SOPHS LOSE LEAD

In a do-or-die effort Tuesday evening the Sophomores went down to defeat again by blowing a 5-2 lead late in the game. The final score was 6-5; the sixth run coming in on a sacrifice fly to left.

The Seniors pulled ahead 2-1 early in the game as a result of some well placed hits and again the Sophomores poor fielding.

In the fourth inning the Sophs pulled out of their hitting sleepness to send 4 runs across the plate. Al Wier sent in 2 runs on a beautifully placed bunt down the right field line.

GRETKOWSKI

It was a fantastic fielding play by Hank Gretkowski that saved the day for the Seniors. Hank went into the hole at short-stop to turn a sure hit into a great double play. Had he missed it, two men would have been on base, with no one out.

As it turned out the Seniors poured 3 home in the sixth and one more in the seventh, to pull a clutch victory and the championship out of the fire.

KNIGHTS YET TO WIN IN BASEBALL

The baseball Knights lost to St. Lawrence U. Wednesday and now have failed to win a ball game this season in five starts. St. Lawrence is now 5-0 on the year.

With John Stewart allowing only 3 hits and 3 runs in 6 innings the Markeymen were ahead 6-3 and sure of a win. However, the bobble of a double play ball by Joe Dudley led to a rally for St. Lawrence in which they tied the score 6-6.

Camilo Brenes doubled in the ninth and hustled home on a short hit by Dan Mahoney to give St. Michael's a one run lead going into the last of the ninth.

GRIFFIN

Pete Griffin was now on the mound for SMC, and he walked the first batter. The next man singled him to third. A balk scored the tieing run and later a called fourth ball on a 3-2 pitch notched a victory for St. Lawrence.

In previous games SMC lost to Dartmouth, Middlebury, Norwich and the U. of Vermont. In one game the Knights committed 8 errors not counting the numerous mental errors that were made.

In trying to work a winning combination Ed Markey is starting Camilo Brenes in left and using St. Peter as a pitcher. The "Saint" pitches in the summer and is not used to throwing in cool weather.
